

To Whom it May concern:

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of corporate media's disregard for the public interest.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. I believe that by forcing local stations to air this clearly partisan material, without other programming to balance it, they are hurting the markets they serve. This disgraceful display of political maneuvering through the public airwaves speaks to the necessity of strengthening media ownership rules.

I am disheartened that Sinclair has been allowed to continue to use its influence this way, and I hope that you will consider stepping in on this issue.

Thank you.
